

Online Workshop

Improving the assessment processes for neurodevelopmental conditions

Researchers at the Institute want to better understand the assessment and support processes of neurodevelopmental conditions.

Are you:

- a person living with autism, ADHD, cerebral palsy, speech or motor disorder, intellectual disability, FASD or other neurodevelopmental conditions?
- a carer for a child with autism, ADHD, cerebral palsy, speech or motor disorder, intellectual disability, FASD or other neurodevelopmental conditions?
- a professional who screens, assesses and diagnoses or provides services such as therapy, funding, education, respite and paid care for children with neurodevelopmental conditions?
- a person who lives in a rural or remote area and finds it difficult to attend workshops in person

Please join us in the online workshop to share your experiences of the screening, assessment, diagnostic and support processes for neurodevelopmental conditions.

We are interested in both positive and negatives experiences, along with your ideas for any unmet needs and future services improvements.

Date: 19 October 2018

Time: 10:00am-12:00pm WST

Please circulate to your colleagues and networks
