

You are invited to attend three webinars:

Child and Adolescent to Parent Violence and Abuse

Workshop for Parents, Caregivers and Professionals

To register for these webinars:

Session 1 Tuesday 7th July 1.30 pm AEST REGISTER HERE

Session 2 Tuesday 21st July 1.30 pm AEST REGISTER HERE

Session 3 Tuesday 4th August 1.30 pm AEST REGISTER HERE

All registrants will receive a recording of the webinar

The first two pre-recorded webinars will explore this area of family violence which is 'almost taboo' in our society, but very real for families and those attempting to offer support and interventions. The third webinar will be a live Q&A session and will address questions arising from the first two webinars.

These webinars include:

- exploring the phenomena of adolescent to parent and caregiver violence and abuse
- the impacts on different family members
- the responses of professionals and strategies that might be effective in managing and reducing family distress and misery
- opportunities for question and interactions and collaborative participation and problem solving.

Presented by Associate Professor Anita Gibbs, University of Otago - a registered social worker who has taught social work, sociology and criminology courses for 20 years. Her research interests include Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD) and complex disabilities, especially identifying best practice in helping families and best evidence for professionals in their interventions with families.

If you would like to speak to somebody about child and adolescent to parent violence or any other FASD related topics, please call the NOFASD Australia helpline on 1800 860 613 or visit www.nofasd.org.au
